

Matrix Launches New Web Site

June 15, 2009 | MATRIX

Matrix USA Inc., a leading North American supplier of PCB materials is delighted to announce the launch of a new Web site with the latest tools for Live Chat, Search and Retrieval. The new site now makes it easy to access Technical Information and provides the Industry's most up to date "Solutions" for the key PCB manufacturing processes.

The new site can be found at <http://www.matrixusa.us> and www.matrixelectronics.com

"The Plan was to highlight our Industry leading Suppliers and provide quick access to their Solutions for process success, including their technical expertise, product data sheets, and the Matrix delivery capability", said Kieran Healy, President. For example – "If you need to know about HSL Laminates, or want to verify a stock item, just go to the site and click on that topic – it's all there, live. Contact us for a PIN."

With this new approach, customers can now use our WEB SITE to address issues in real time. In addition, the web site continues to provide instant access to Inventory, Order Placement, and Account Status.
